INTRO

Maybe it's true...I was just born to be blue

OPENER

Sides face, grand square
They say everybody's got someone
A sweet somebody to love
It might be faith or destiny
Baby written in the stars above
4 ladies chain that ring, you chain her right back
Keep that girl and promenade
Maybe my baby's nowhere to be found
And I was just born to be blue

4 ladies chain 3/4
Heads (sides) promenade 1/2 way
You lead to the right, dosado
Swing thru, boys run
Tag the line, face in
Square thru, go 3
Swing corner & promenade
Tell me I'm wrong...tell me I'm right...
But don't tell me I was born to be blue

4 ladies chain 3/4
Heads (sides) go right & left thru
Sides (heads) lead right, do a dosado
Swing thru with the outside two
Single hinge, centers trade, recycle
Star thru and all promenade
Tell me I'm wrong...tell me I'm right...
But don't tell me I was born (to be blue)

MIDDLE BREAK

Sides face, grand square
Was I born to be unhappy just to live on Heartache street
Was I born to go to bed each nite cryin' myself to Allemande and weave
Can somebody out there help me, give me some kind of clue
Tell me I'm wrong...tell me I'm right...
But don't tell me I was born to be blue

CLOSER

Sides face, grand square
They say nobody dies from a heartache
You can't drown in your own tears
But who wants to live in this world alone
When minutes turn into years
4 ladies chain that ring, you chain her right back
Keep that girl and promenade
Tell me I'm wrong...tell me I'm right...
But don't tell me I was born to be blue

TAG

Maybe my baby's nowhere to be found
And I was just born to be blue
