

It Could Have Been The Mandolin

Called By: Sam Rowan

MM- 388

Opener: (Grand Square)

Remember sitting back in your daddy's Cadillac with that good Radio,
All the windows down and that Philco sound cranking out some Bill Monroe,
Allemande Left and Weave, When you took my hand in yours you stole my heart,
Swing that girl around and Promenade that park,
When you fell for me, I fell right back, Right into your arms.

Figure:

The Head/Sides two Promenade halfway around the Ring,
Square Thru,
Four Hands inside, Right & Left Thru, Veer Left, Ferris Wheel
Centers Sweep $\frac{1}{4}$, Hang onto her, Lead Right,
Swing and Promenade tonight
When you fell for me, I fell right back, Right into your arms.

Middle Break/Closer: (Grand Square)

It could have been the mandolin,
'Cause bluegrass always stirs my soul,
Or maybe that Kentucky wind,
Blowing 'round as hot as coal, (Allemande Left and Weave)
It might have been that July moon,
Swing and Promena-a-ade,
They were all a part of setting up, the perfect stage to fall in love that Night.
